Getting Ready

In view of the fact that this Wednesday is Ash Wednesday, here is a further opportunity to invite all of us to use Lent well.

For some people you would be hard put to guess that Lent is happening at all. There will, of course be those who are exercising very strict spiritual discipline but without others knowing. But most of the time it will be just a matter of giving up something they should already not be doing (and maybe feeling quite grumpy about it too?).

This is not what it's all about! Lent should leave us changed—permanently and for the better. And that means that our Lent discipline has always to be underpinned with prayer—time spent with God. And in the current state of events, the least we can do is pray insistently for peace, especially in the Ukraine, but in so many other places where violence still destroys lives and nations.

Sunday Evensong Addresses; Wednesday Study Group; Stations of the Cross; simple daily prayers and actions as in the Lent Reflections booklet. Add to these what you will, but make sure that when Easter comes, you will have done something that brings you closer to the God who longs to be close to you.

Collect Prayer

Almighty Father, whose Son was revealed in majesty before he suffered death upon the cross: give us grace to perceive his glory, that we may be strengthened to suffer with him and be changed into his likeness, from glory to glory; who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Amen

A reading from the Second Letter of Paul to the Corinthians 2 Corinthians 3.12-4.2

Since, then, we have such a hope, we act with great boldness, not like Moses, who put a veil over his face to keep the people of Israel from gazing at the end of the glory that was being set aside. But their minds were hardened. Indeed, to this very day, when they hear the reading of the old covenant, that same veil is still there, since only in Christ is it set aside. Indeed, to this very day whenever Moses is read, a veil lies over their minds; but when one turns to the Lord, the veil is removed. Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. And all of us, with unveiled faces, seeing the glory of the Lord as though reflected in a mirror, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another; for this comes from the Lord, the Spirit.

Therefore, since it is by God's mercy that we are engaged in this ministry, we do not lose heart. We have renounced the shameful things that one hides; we refuse to practise cunning or to falsify God's word; but by the open statement of the truth we commend ourselves to the conscience of everyone in the sight of God.

This is the Word of the Lord. Thanks be to God

Listen to the Gospel of Christ according to Saint Luke Glory to you, O Lord Luke 9.28-36

Now about eight days after these sayings Jesus took with him Peter and John and James, and went up on the mountain to pray. And while he was praying, the appearance of his face changed, and his clothes became dazzling white. Suddenly they saw two men, Moses and Elijah, talking to him. They appeared in glory and were speaking of his departure, which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. Now Peter and his companions were weighed down with sleep; but since they had stayed awake, they saw his glory and the two men who stood with him. Just as they were leaving him, Peter said to Jesus, 'Master, it is good for us to be here; let us make three dwellings, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah' - not knowing what he said. While he was saying this, a cloud came and overshadowed them; and they were terrified as they entered the cloud. Then from the cloud came a voice that said, 'This is my Son, my Chosen; listen to him!' When the voice had spoken, Jesus was found alone. And they kept silent and in those days told no one any of the things they had seen.

This is the Gospel of the Lord. Praise to you, O Christ
